1. Authentication

To perform a non-anonymous call on Quatrix API, a client application should obtain a session token. Session token is than used to authorize user making API calls.

Session token is valid/active during certain period of time (15 min) since last API action. If there were no activity during that period session token is expired and user has to obtain a new one.

Failed login returns 401 HTTP error.

- Keepalive
- Login
- Logout